

* Except the patients who have an indication for neoadjuvant therapy because of locally advanced disease. They should be treated by decompressing colostomy